LIVE WIRE SHOCKED HIM

Henry Miller Knocked From a Pole and Fatally Hurt.

With an Assistant, He Was Trying to Repair a Break at Cleveland Park.

Henry Miller, forty-three years old, a lunatic, in the employ of the Potomac

Light and Power Company of Georgetown was knocked from an electric light pole by a live wire last night, and so badly injured that death resulted in a few hours. Miller had been in the employ of the company nine months, and was considered one of their most competent electricians.

Miller and his assistant, Augustus Boersen, were sent out to repair a wire at Cleveland Park about 11:30 o'clock, and Miller climbed the first pole out of Ben-leytown road, while Boersen held the ladder.

Miller reached the top of the pole, put his hand on one of the wires, and in an instant was knocked from the ladder, striking Boersen, and landing head first with terrible force on the ground.

He was helped to his residence, No.

3216 M street. Everything possible was done to relieve him of pain, but at 4:10 o'clock he died.

Mr. H. P. Parny, secretary of the Potomac

Light and Power Company, when seen by The Times reporter in reference to the accident, said:

"There is no one to blame in the matter.

It was purely an accident, one that is liable to happen at any time."

Coroner Hammett, after a careful examination, came to the conclusion that it was unnecessary to hold an inquest.

Dr. Hammett thought that the direct cause of Miller's death was concussion of the brain.

ANOTHER CROOK'S WORK.

Reported to the Police by a Christian Endeavorer.

George H. Waring, a Christian Endeavorer from Massachusetts, had an experience yesterday afternoon with a swindler, who tried to work an old dodge on him. The fellow wasterly dressed, and represented himself to be an Endeavorer from a Southern State.

They met near the Peace monument, at First street and Pennsylvania avenue. The swindler said he was without money, having lost his purse and railroad tickets. He then endeavored to induce Mr. Waring to advance him $5 on an old brass watch, which the sharper declared was a family heirloom.

Mr. Waring had evidently heard of this threepenny, old scheme, and he told the swindler he would accommodate him if he would wait a few moments until Waring could get a $10 bill changed at a nearby store.

Instead of doing this, the Massachusetts man caped Police Officer Mulvey, senturing along the Avenue, and notified him of the scheme that had been tried on him.

Mulvey started for the stranger, and a foot race followed through the Capitol park.

The bunco man ran through the portals of the big building and disappeared among the interminable hallways. The police have his description, and will look out for him in the thrones of Endeavorers.

Mr. F. O. Hyde, a well-known Endeavorer, from Galt, Ontario, Canada, reported to Inspector Hollister this morning that on Thursday, while he was talking with a few Endeavorers in the Baltimore and Potomac station, a thief walked off with his valise, containing personal effects.

MAIN FOR SECOND PLACE

Republicans and Populists included. He closed by naming Judge Walter Clark.

The chairman, in presenting the next speaker, said of him: "I had the honor of serving in two Congresses with him. I saw him there when the Wilson tariff bill was under consideration, and although he stood on the floor and admitted that he knew of the steel trust, as it was called, to control the manufacture of steel rails, and although he was engaged in an occupation which derired an immense profit from that trust, he had the honesty to contend and vote that steel rails be put on the free list.

(Cheers.) I present to you big-hearted, honest, truest Tom Johnson, of Ohio.

(Cheers.)

Hon. Tom Johnson took the stand and put in nomination Mr. George W. Fithian of Illinois, saying of him: "He has been in six Congresses, and his every action has been in accordance with your platform.

He has the merit which I think is absolutely necessary for the Vice Presidency.

This fight will have to be won by the people, by the men who are interested in humanity."

MONEYED MEN FOR MCKINLEY.

"Money will be on the other side, for the moneyed men of the Democratic party have most of the money in the country. I do not believe in a free silver man, but I do not believe in free silver, but I do believe that the Democratic party has started a great revolution for the good of the people. But for free silver (which I think is wrong), you have inaugurated a movement for the good of humanity, and therefore, I am with you heartily. (Loud applause.) Make not the mistake of thinking you can bind anybody with money. It will kill the ticket before the ball. Mr. Fithian fills the bill. He comes from a State that is pivotal, and I hope to God that you will nominate him."

Hon. M. W. Powers of Oregon said he rose to place in nomination a man who had been three years governor of the great State of Oregon as the Democratic nominee, notwithstanding the fact that the State was then and is now a Republican, a man recently nominated by the great majority of the Northwest, Gov. Sylvester Penneyer. (Loud applause.)

When he was governor of Oregon, continued Mr. Miller, the railroad companies had trouble with their men, and he went upon the scene of action, and he said to the corporations, "pay your men and you will have no trouble." They paid their men, and he did not call out the militia. (Cheers.)

He is in hearty sympathy with labor, and all the great labor movements of this country will endorse him. I appeal to you to recognize the Pacific coast and nominate ex-Gov. Penneyer.

Senator White yelled, "Go on, go on," leaving Representative Richardson of Tennessee to preside over the convention.

Mr. William R. Burke of Los Angeles, Cal., presented the name of Arthur Sewell of Mass., as a man who "strive for liberty when God himself was dumb."

SIBLEY'S NAME PRESENTED.

Mr. Shawwater of Missouri, presented the name of Joseph C. Sibley, of Pennsylvania.

He spoke of the Presidential candidate as a "modern Moses endowed with the courage of a Jackson and the eloquence of a Clay, destined, under heaven, to lead the American people from bondage into liberty." The name of Sibley on the ticket would, Mr.

Shawwater said, add strength and solidity to the ticket.

Mr. C. S. Thomas of Colorado seconded the nomination of Arthur Sewell, as a man distinguished for business ability and lifelong devotion to the cause of Democracy, and whose name will fill up and round out the work performed by the convention yesterday.

Mr. W. O. Powers of Utah presented the name of Senator Daniel of Virginia.

"You have inaugurated," he said, "a new era wherein silver and gold, the twin metals, shall go hand in hand as God integrated, scattering blessings on every side.

"I desire now, in behalf of the youngest

State of the Union, the State whose star was placed on the flag last Saturday, to suggest the name of John W. Daniel of Virginia for Vice President. I present it without his request and without his knowledge."

Mr. Jones of Virginia acknowledged the compliment paid to his State, but said that he had been instructed by Senator Daniel to say, if his name should be presented as a candidate for Vice President, that under no circumstances would he agree to accept a nomination.
